Parent and Student Handbook

Kindergarten-8th Grade

2023-2024

5783-5784

Dear Students and Parents,

Welcome to the Yeshiva Day School of Las Vegas!

YDLV students build a strong foundation for life's journey through the school's enriching program. We take great pride in our students. Our greatest achievement is their success.

Please take a few moments to familiarize yourself with the materials in this handbook. It is designed to outline specific school policies and procedures that are crucial to your child's success at YDLV. Please understand that while our handbook addresses most areas of the school, changes that need to happen during the school year may not be reflected in this document. The school will notify you of changes as deemed appropriate.

During the year, we will communicate regularly through our weekly school newsletters. Should you have questions please feel free to call the office at 702-838-8003 or email at office@ydlv.org. As appropriate, you may contact your child's teacher directly.

We look forward to sharing this journey of a lifetime with you and your child.

Sincerely,

The Educational Administrative Team

Rabbi Mendel Levine, Principal
Mrs. Mollie Angle, Director of Academics

Academics

Report Cards and Educate

YDLV uses a comprehensive School Management System called Educate. Throughout the semester, teachers in grades K-8 will be entering assignments on a regular basis so you can have full access to understand your child's academic progress and development. We encourage you to check in with Educate on a regular basis to stay connected with your child's academic performance and their teachers.

The Torah Studies department is a major curricular component of our school. Students are receiving grades in line with their academic performance. However, the grading system used in the Torah studies department is used as a barometer to determine their skill and proficiency level. We want all students at Yeshiva Day School to develop a love and passion for Torah, by no means should a child's grades in Torah studies impact these feelings.

At Yeshiva Day School, we focus on Middos, character development, as well as the core academic curriculum. The Middos grades focus on a number of aspects and components that are essential to the success of the student. This section of the report card is an opportunity for everyone, including parents, teachers, and students to reflect and evaluate these areas and see how they can affect a student's ability to develop socially, behaviorally, and academically. The grades given here are not meant as a criticism, but as an opportunity to focus on both areas of strength and areas needing improvement.

Our faculty believes report cards should serve two essential functions:

- For you, the parent, the report card should serve as a picture of your child's accomplishment – an indicator of areas of strength and weakness and most significantly, as a catalyst for communication between parent and teacher to reach a shared understanding of the student's progress and development.
- For the teacher, the report card is a summative evaluation of the work of the student and a composite of what has been accomplished during the given time period. It also includes a stated goal based on the child's academic, social and emotional development as seen in the classroom.

YDLV is transitioning to a quarterly grading system. Official Educate progress reports will be generated at the end of Quarter 1 & 3 in preparation for Parent-Teacher Conferences. Final Semester Grade Report cards will be mailed at the end of each of the two Semesters (January & June); these Semester Reports will reflect the final grades for students.

Should your child's report raise more questions than it answers, or reveals an evaluation that was not previously perceived by you, it is appropriate for you to contact the teacher. We urge parents to make appointments to meet with teachers or administrators any time it is warranted.

Homework

- Students will be assigned homework beginning in Kindergarten. The assignments are provided by the classroom teacher and are to be completed outside of regular school hours. Homework allows students to review and practice material at home.
- It also allows parents to be active participants in their child's learning process and become familiar with what their child is learning at school.
- Homework will increase as the child moves through grades. Please refer to your child's classroom teachers for a more detailed explanation of homework requirements for each grade.
- Students in Grades K-4 can expect to receive roughly 10-20 minutes of homework per night as reinforcement; students in Grades 5-8 should expect to receive roughly 20-30 minutes per night.

Conferences

- Conferences are required for at least 1 parent or guardian to attend.
- Parent Teacher Conferences will be scheduled at the end of the First and Third Quarters so as to be proactive and provide students with opportunities for improving upon their efforts prior to the end of each official grading period: 1st and 2nd Semesters.

Midterms and Final Exams for Middle School Students, Grades 6-8

- Midterm and Final Exams are required for all Middle School students, Grades 6-8; Midterms will take place the last week of Semester 1 and Final Exams will transpire the final week of classes; these exams will generally constitute 10% of the semester grade.

National Standardized Testing

- The school will provide standardized testing for students throughout the year so that formative and summative skill evaluations can be accurately provided. Standardized testing offered by the school will include: NWEA Assessments in Math and Reading.

This computer adaptive program allows teachers to run diagnostic reports on students to determine how they are comparing nationally to other students at their grade level. Additionally, students in Kindergarten through second grade (as needed) are assessed three times a year in phonics development to track reading readiness. Once a child demonstrates grade level appropriate reading fluency the phonics assessments are stopped. Teachers and administration can use this data to determine the need for additional intervention.

Students in grades 2-4 are assessed in Torah studies classes on the L'Havin Skills assessment twice a year, fall and spring

All students are assessed at least 2 times a year in Hebrew reading accuracy and fluency.

YDLV Academic Support

At Yeshiva we try to provide all students with the best education possible. We are very aware that children differ in their learning styles and academic ability. The Administration is always available to meet with parents and proactively work towards their child's success in school. While our classrooms strive to meet the needs of all learners, there are times when students will need remediation beyond what is provided in the classroom. In these situations teachers, parents and students will work with support staff to help meet their individual learning needs, enhance their educational experience, and reach their fullest potential.

All student support services are monitored and guided by the Administration. Should the need for individual testing or counseling arise, administrators will meet with the parents, and explain their concerns carefully and offer a number of options. The school reserves the right to mandate counseling or intervention for any student whom the administration perceives is having consistent problems in school.

If there's a need for teachers to fill out any forms, please submit them to the General Studies Principal and they will be distributed to the appropriate teachers. The school will mail the completed forms to the requesting professional. Please be sure to leave contact information for the doctor when dropping off the forms.

A child entering with an IEP from a public district only serves as information for the school. As a private school YDLV is not responsible for meeting the accommodations outlined in the student's IEP. If the parent chooses to send their child to YDLV and not receive equitable services from the district, YDLV can only provide support where appropriate. YDLV does offer private pay occupational, speech, or physical therapy service. If the child is on an IEP/Service plan, the parent is responsible to transport students to and from the services.

If a student is receiving additional support, the teacher will receive monthly progress reports with feedback on student growth. With report cards, parents will receive an anecdotal report describing their child's progress as well. Parents are required to set up conferences with the support team twice a year during the regularly scheduled times. If a parent fails to meet with the support team, services will be temporarily terminated until the conference has been conducted. YDLV strongly encourages parents to play an active role in their child's academic career, especially when students need additional support. Parent communication is optimal to your child's success in our program.

If the child is recommended for academic or behavioral intervention that requires additional staff, parents will need to provide private pay support in collaboration with the YDLV administration.

Resource support staff are available at the discretion of individual parents; they are:

Title 1 and Catapult services:

The district provides tutoring for students at YDLV who are zoned for public education in a Title 1 district. At the beginning of each school year, student eligibility is determined by the district. If the classroom teacher and administration feel the student would benefit from the services, the parents are required to sign consent forms. Students may be tutored from Catapult in Reading and Math.

All students that qualify for Title 1 must use their services provided by Catapult in order to be serviced in the resource room at YDLV. If a parent denies Title 1 services for their child they will not be able to use the resource room as an alternative. Parents or guardians of students receiving Title 1 services must attend conferences twice a year.

Torah Studies:

All students entering YDLV from a public school or private school that does not provide the same curriculum will qualify for tutoring in the resource room. Students will work one on one or in small groups depending on the need.

If any YDLV student is failing to progress in their Hebrew/Torah studies, Resource support can be provided based on the recommendation of the classroom Rebbe or Morah and the L'havin Skills assessment in grades 2-4.

Enrichment:

Students in grades K-4 who place significantly above grade level will be provided with anchor projects and activities to support their level of learning in the classroom. YDLV strives to develop the whole child and meet all students where they hold academically and socially. It is our goal to help academically advanced students utilize their skill sets to be able to think critically and apply knowledge in different ways. These projects are designed to challenge the student in different ways, while keeping them engaged in the class. It is appropriate for students to maintain with their grade level peers for good social development.

Counseling:

YDLV has in-house school guidance counselors. Should a classroom teacher or administration feel that a student needs to speak to the counselor about an important issue a referral will be made for an initial session to determine the need for ongoing sessions. The school based sessions are done entirely in confidentiality with the guidance counselor and the student. YDLV has the right to recommend and require additional counseling and testing for the child should the need arise.

Exploratory Classes

A variety of exploratory classes will be offered to students at YDLV to give them exposure to other learning experiences outside of the core curriculum.

- Physical Education is a course mandated by the Board of Education. All students are required to participate and will be excused only with a note from the parent or from the child's physician. Classroom grades are based on participation and effort. Students who report to Physical Education class must wear proper shoes (gym or tennis shoes with laces and flat rubber soles [no heels or sandals] are acceptable).
- Art class is correlated to the upcoming Jewish Holidays. Students in grades K-8 will work with the Art Teacher to create beautiful pieces for the upcoming holidays.
- Middle school students will have electives every Friday. Electives are based on student interest and range from robotics, forensics, workshop, art classes, sports, News show, newspaper, and more.

Summer Homework:

Summer packets are provided at the discretion of each teacher; they may be issued as Digital Packets.

Middle School 1:1 Chromebook Policy:

- Mission:
Yeshiva Day School of Las Vegas is implementing a 1:1 Chromebook device initiative for students in grades 5-8. The goal of the program is to provide students access to online resources in all their classes. The program will establish a foundation for individualized instruction, organizational tools, and resources for the 21st century learner. Today's students require technology to be integrated seamlessly throughout the educational curriculum, to build upon skills students will use for the future. Chromebooks will be utilized in various ways through different courses and grade levels at the discretion of the teacher.
